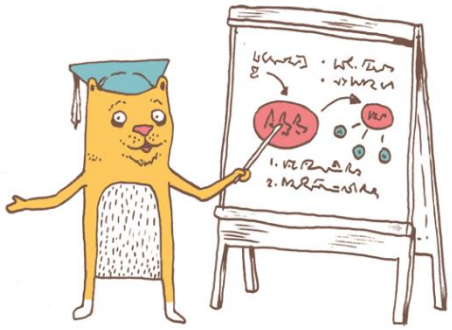
Audience and Purpose. Children are taught to consider the reason(s) they are writing and to identify their intended audience. This supports the precise selection of vocabulary, grammar and structure of their writing.

Teach



Information texts

Paint with words

Descriptive writing

Persuade or give my opinion

Writing to persuade or debate

Entertain

Narrative, playscripts and poetry

Reflect

Diary writing, recount and personal response.

Children also consider these as they read – what was the authorial intention? Can they identify the key features of the genre as they read?